Variables

Variables are placeholder in memory.

Exceptions

Exceptions are abnormal conditions at runtime.

Why do exceptions occur?

1. Bad code

2. Error due to environment

3. JVM error

Types of Exceptions

There are two types of exceptions

1. Runtime exceptions

2. Checked exceptions

Compilation failures

This page lists out all the possible compilation failures that can occur in a Java program.

1. When a local variable is not initialized before it is used.

FAQs

1. How to debug Class Cast exception?

Generic Programming problems

These are some of the basic langauge independent problems.
These should be tried for every programming language learnt.

1. Write hello world.

2. Reverse a string with and without using any library functions

3. Find out sum of all elements of an array

4. Guess the number game

5. Generate fibonacci series upto *N

6. Return Nth fibonacci number.

7. Find out `max` and `min` of an *Array

CS fundamentals

1. What is the difference between intrepreter and compiler?

2. What is query string?

3. What is a webserver?